

COLONEL BRODIE'S RECEPTION.

He Is Warmly Greeted by the Voters of the Territory.

The people of Kingman on Wednesday gave Col. Brodie and his party a fine welcome. The hall was crowded with eager listeners and the speakers were frequently applauded. After the speaking a dance was given in honor of the next delegate to congress.

Col. Brodie reached Prescott on the regular passenger train Thursday afternoon and received a royal welcome. Almost the entire population of the town were at the depot to greet him, and the procession formed at the depot, led by the brass band, marched to the plaza where the immense crowd was addressed by the Colonel, who was greeted with cheer after cheer.

The meeting at opera house at night was a grand outpouring of the people. Every seat was occupied, as was every inch of standing room, and hundreds of people were turned away. The meeting was addressed by Col. Brodie, J. H. Collins, E. S. Clark and Judge C. W. Wright, and their reception was most enthusiastic.

Col. Brodie spoke in Congress last night and will be in Phoenix to-night, where a royal reception will be given him. A torch light procession, in which will march 1,000 voters, will be one of the features of the meeting.

Rev. J. P. McIntyre, chaplain of the Oregon, who last week was ordered dismissed from the service for utterances made in a lecture at Denver criticizing the navy, was at one time stationed at Tombstone, being pastor of the M. E. church in the 80's and left territory in 1886. He is said to be a fine talker, and those who knew him in the ministry here are surprised that he should make statements that he could not substantiate.
